OBLIVION

Being Oblivious is a characteristic that is very familiar in this new age of ours'

Some are oblivious of the existential calamity facing our immediate environment others, general affinity to recognize the need to support each other through trying times and situations

At the onset of Covid 19, I was thinking of how to embody the need, to support each other thru this times.

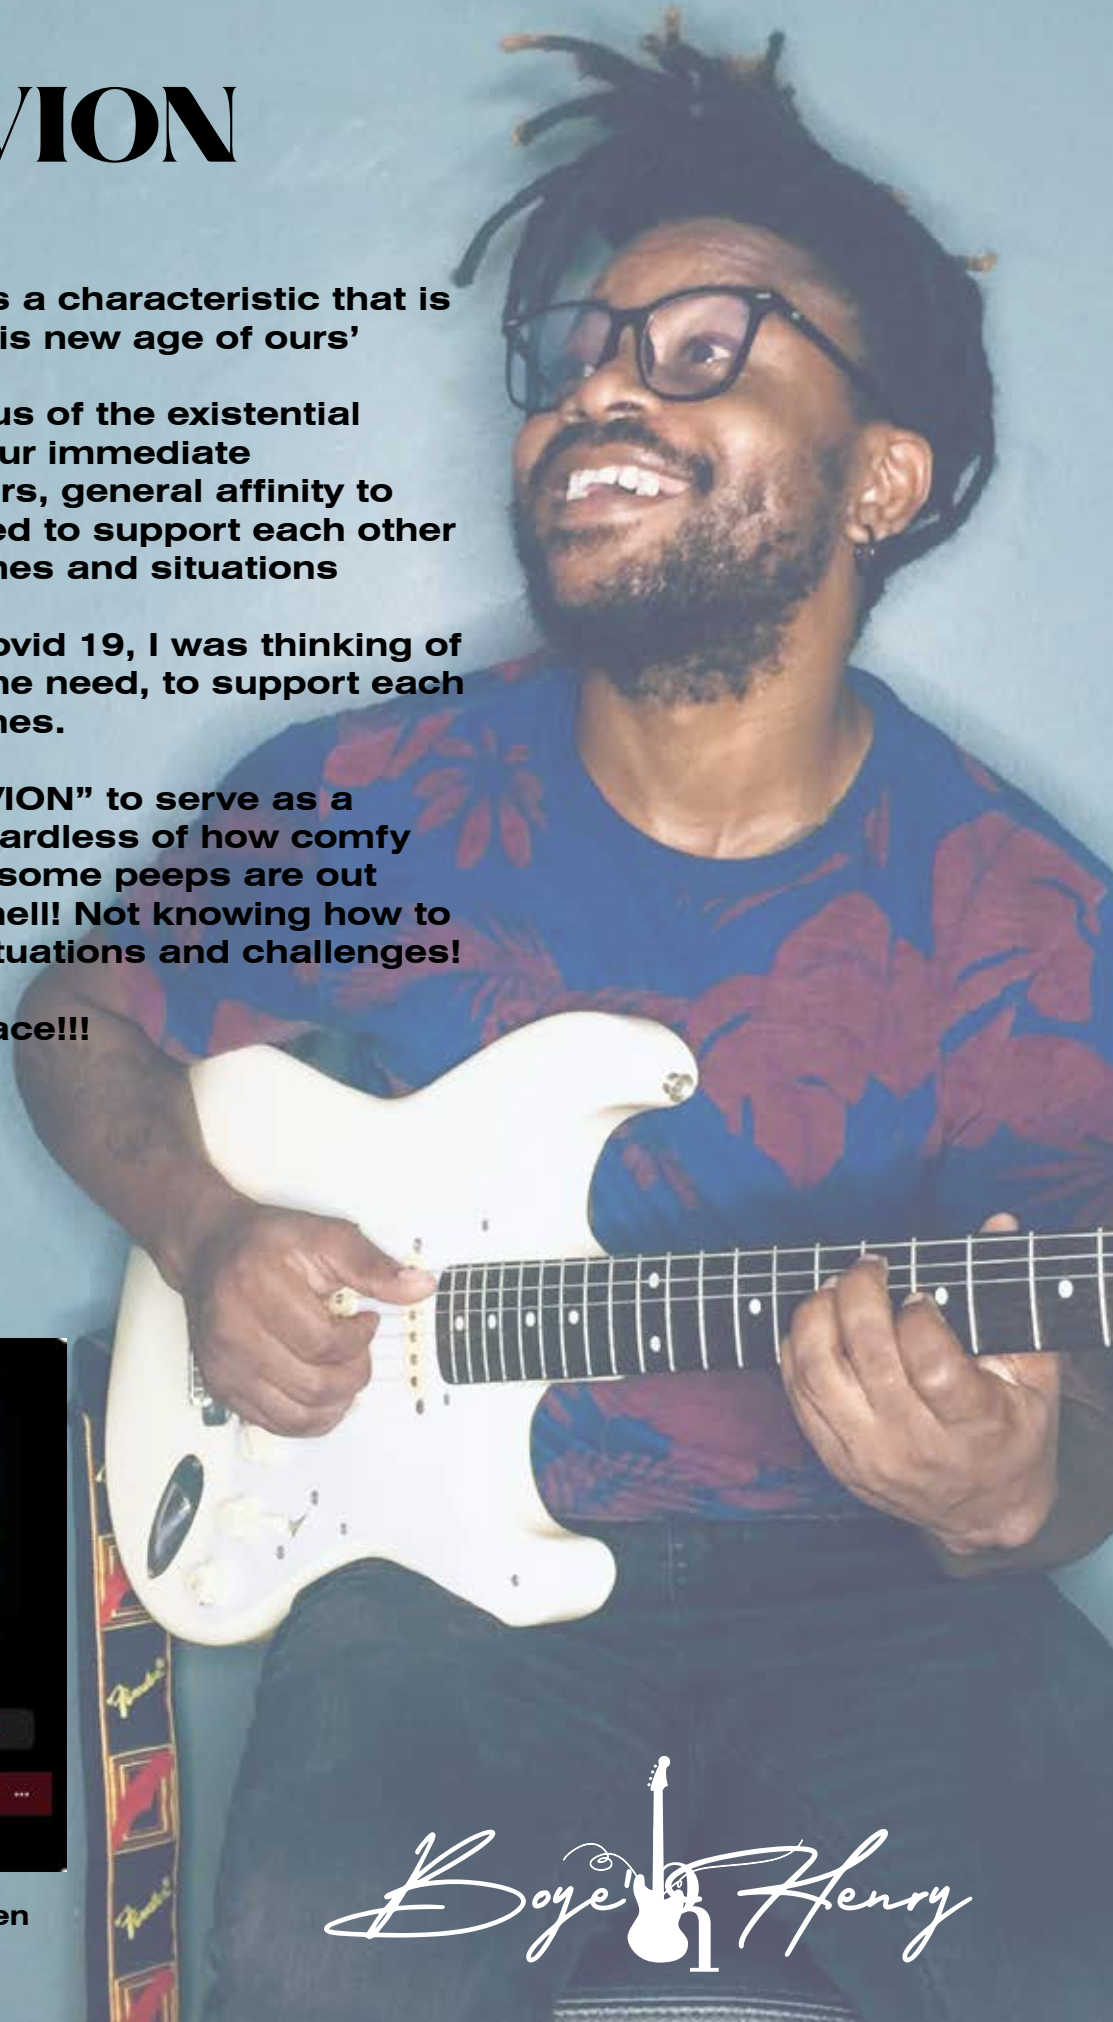

So I wrote "OBLIVION" to serve as a reminder that regardless of how comfy your life may be, some peeps are out there going thru hell! Not knowing how to approach their situations and challenges!

Lend a hand! Peace!!!
